Dear Valued Customer.

Subject: Price increase effective from January 2023

Please be advised effective 1st January 2023 we will be having a price increase.

The current economic and business environment we are operating in is very challenging. Global supply chains remain under considerable strain and the Russia-Ukraine war presents unprecedented challenges. Issues continue with supply of some electronic components and raw materials, equally we continue to see increased costs with these materials and every area of supply chain from energy to logistics.

OMRON is working tirelessly to realize greater production capabilities and efficiency in parallel with continued collaboration between Omron leadership and our suppliers to secure parts and materials. We are doing everything possible to mitigate for these cost increases, however these improvements cannot fully off-set the cost increases.

Considering the above we have nevertheless as always endeavored to keep the increase to a minimum. Please contact your local Omron representative for further details or for a copy of the latest Price list.

I would also like to take the opportunity to thank our customers for their loyal support, and commitment to the Omron brand in these challenging times.

We assure you of our ongoing commitment to best possible customer service.

Yours truly,

Country General Manager
